

PicTalk Quick-Start Guide

Take a picture. Say what you see. Your site walk is saved together.

PicTalk keeps each photo, your voice note, and a written copy of your words together as a stop, and groups the stops into a job. It works with no signal: everything saves on your phone first and uploads when signal comes back.

YOUR FIRST JOB IN FIVE STEPS

- 1 Tap Start New Job
The bar at the top shows the job your stops are saving to.
- 2 Tap Take Photo
Take a picture of the spot you're looking at.
- 3 Tap the Tap to Talk button and say what you see
Tap it again to stop. PicTalk writes your words down for you.
- 4 Tap Save This Stop
Repeat steps 2 to 4 at each spot on the site.
- 5 Tap End Job when the walk is done
Add the customer and location, then finish. You get an AI summary to review and a PDF report to share.

TIPS FOR GREAT RESULTS

- One stop per spot. Photo first, then talk about that spot.
- Say where you are first: "Front entrance, east side."
- Talk like you're briefing a coworker: what you see, what's wrong, what needs to be done.
- Give numbers: how many, how far, how big.
- Read model and part numbers slowly, and spell letters that sound alike.
- Keep notes short: several short stops beat one long one.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Before you go: put PicTalk on your home screen so it opens with no signal.
- Quiet spot, phone close: wind and running equipment make words harder to catch.
- Check your words before you leave the site and fix anything that came out wrong.
- Use wrap-up notes at the end for the big picture and what the customer asked for.
- Review the AI summary before you share the report.
- Save your work (sign in) so your jobs are kept.

Need help with something else? In PicTalk, tap ? at the top of the main screen and ask Ask PicTalk, by typing or by voice: how to do something, what a message means, or tips for better results.